FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1866.

GEN. JAS. S. NEGLEY.

This gentleman is a patriot-soldier, and has a proud record behind him of meritorious achievements in the field. He is now seeking a nomination for Congress from the Republican Conference for the Twenty-second district, which will be held on the 14th instant. Yesterday the General met on Fifth street, as we are informed, an old personal and political friend, and in the course of the conversation that ensued, made the extraordinary avowal that "if he should be beaten by Gen. Moorhead before the Congressional Conference, he would not vote for him at the election, but would fight him on the stump and through the press till the 12th day of October."

If the report of this conversation came to us in questionable shape, we should have made no mention of it; but it came to us with such weighty proofs of authenticity that we can not pass it by.

Now, we submit that an aspirant for a nomination who avows the purpose, in case his pretensions shall be set aside, to strive to defeat his successful competitor, ought not to have his name considered by the Conference.

We call upon Gen. NEGLEY to say whether he has been misrepresented or misunderstood in this matter. Our columns are at his service.

—It having been currently reported that Gen. NEGLEY had consented to run for Congress in the interest of the Democrats in case he failed to get the Republican nomination, the Union Republican County Committee felt constrained, yesterday, to interrogate him in writing on the subject. He failed to make any response. Comment is needless.

MR. KING, of the New Orleans Times, who, before the riots, telegraphed that the Convention was only "a debating club," and afterwards spoke of its members as revolutionists, wrote recently at the President's dictation, as follows:

"The officers and people of New Orleans must, in every respect, deport themselves in such a way that the stain of the recent occurrence may, as much as possible, be wiped out. The President demands this."

The President, then, comprehends that the blood of his victims in New Orleans has left a "stain." Ay, and all the waters of the ocean will not wash it out. He now "demands" that the assassins, who were his tools, shall so behave as hereafter to pass for gentlemen. And this from a President of the United States!

THE Richmond Examiner, in commenting upon the hisses and groans given by the reconstructed rebels of Kentucky for GRANT and SHERMAN, says:

"Not only in Kentucky, but throughout the Union and the world, Grant and Sherman will decline in estimation, while President Johnson and General Lee will be recognized in all their purity, goodness, and greatness."

There is no mystery in the fact that the rebels now associate the name of President JOHNSON with that of General LEE. The President, by his conduct, shows he has repented of the part he took in putting down the rebellion, and is willing to do all he can, under the circumstances, to undo the best acts of his life.

THE democrats of Adams County have instructed their conferees to vote "forever" for Mr. WM. MCSHERRY for Congress. COFFROTH has two counties; SHARPE two, and MCSHERRY one. It may be pleasant for excited gentlemen to keep on balloting until "the crack o' doom," but meanwhile Gen. KOONTZ, the republican candidate, will be elected and hold the seat.

IN THE Franklin district Gen. WM. H. KOONTZ is the republican candidate for Congress.

In the Franklin and Perry Legislative district the ticket is complete. Col. F. S. STUMBAUGH, of Franklin, and Major GEO. A. SHUMAN, of Perry, are the candidates.

SENATOR COWAN is at Washington whetting the political guillotine. He avows his affiliation with the Democrats. We are glad to be relieved of his lying pretense of belonging to the Republican party.

THE Republicans of Cumberland county have nominated the following ticket: Congress, Col. R. M. M. HENDERSON, Carlisle; Assembly, Col. JOHN LEE.

THE western people are welcoming the radical members of Congress home with unbounded demonstrations of confidence and respect.

A REPUBLICAN mass meeting will be held at Johnstown this evening. Hon. L. W. Hall and other eminent speakers will be present.

THE Democrats of York have nominated LEVI MARSH and STEPHEN G. BOYD, as their candidates for the Legislature.

GEN. FREMONT will be a candidate for U. S. Senator in Missouri provided the next Legislature is radical.

THE President and Cabinet will be at Chicago, September 5th, and remain two nights and one day.

IN Cincinnati, for July, 330 deaths were reported; in Chicago, 706.

—A doctor has been arrested in New Orleans and held in $500 bail, on the charge of causing the death of a little girl and a little boy, who suffering from chills and fever, both died in two hours after taking some medicine he administered to them. After the little girl had died, when the medicine given to her was prescribed for her brother, he said, "Uncle, I don't want to take that medicine; it killed sissy, and it will kill me." "Oh, no," was responded, "it was not the medicine that killed your sister." The little fellow replied, "May be not, but I wish you would let me see my pony before I take it, because I don't believe I will ever see him again." He was shown the pony, took the medicine, and in one hour afterwards was a corpse.

—A Kentucky letter says: We cannot pick up a Kentucky paper but what we see an account of some terrible affray with pistols or knives. The city of Louisville alone will average a murder a day, and in twelve country towns it is just as bad. Now, what is to be done? We venture to say that eight out of ten of the young men of Kentucky carry weapons, and use them when there is an opportunity, too. As a Kentuckian it is a source of much mortification that this state of affairs exists. Where it will end God only knows. We do hope our next Legislature will take some strict action in the matter for the credit of the State.

—A little town in Massachusetts, called Halifax, has not a man in it that makes an income return of sufficient amount to be required to pay income tax. That must be a town very unlike most of the New England towns, a place where there are no manufactories, and where the people have had no Government contracts.

A Church Disturber.
"The weather, for a week past, has been quite cool, and, to us, very unpleasant. Besides being cool, and unpleasant in that way, it is exceedingly changeable. On Wednesday, the 18th, the thermometer stood 80 or 90 in the shade, most of the day. The next day, overcoats and fires were necessary to comfort, and on Friday morning there was quite a hard frost in the vicinity though nothing was seriously injured thereby. As a consequence of these sudden changes, many people are afflicted with bad colds and coughs. We observed a lady in church, the other evening, so much annoyed with a hard cough that we really felt alarmed for her safety; so much so, that it was with some effort we could refrain from 'talking out in meeting,' and recommending her forthwith to procure a bottle of Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, to give her immediate relief."

Prepared at Dr. Keyser's Medicine and Drug Store, No. 140 Wood street.

From a Lady.
WEST MILTON, SARATOGA CO., N. Y., July 6, 1861.

DR. HOSTETTER—SIR: I have long delayed writing to you my sincere thanks for the good you have done my daughter. I can truly say that nothing but the kind hand of Providence and your BITTERS have saved her from an early grave. For three years I have been doctoring her with syrups and all kinds of bitters that have been recommended to me for her, besides having two first rate physicians; but all seemed to do her no good, while I was searching the almanacs and all the newspapers that I could get hold of, in hopes of finding something that would suit her case. Accidentally there came part of a newspaper around some goods that I bought at the Spa. In looking it over I saw at a glance that your BITTERS was just what she needed. I sent the next day to Ballston Spa and got a bottle of your BITTERS. She commenced taking them, and such a change in one week with her appetite, and the distress that victuals occasioned, and that burning in the Stomach, I never saw in my life as there was in her. She has taken three bottles, and is now able to work all the time. I think there is a little derangement of the Liver. Please send me three bottles more, which I think will cure her entirely. We and others thought she had disease of the heart, but that beating and fluttering that would almost stop her from breathing at times, is all gone. Yours, with respect,

MRS. AMANDA MCPHERSON.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Affairs in Frankfort—The Contributions Levied by Prussia—Burgomaster Fellner Hangs Himself—Bankers Threaten to Suspend Payment in Germany and Abroad—Sudden Growth of the American Population—Prussia's Reasons for Levying 25,000,000 Florins.

NEW YORK, August 9.—Advices from Frankfort to the 26th state that the Senate and other municipal bodies of that city have assembled in order to draw up a petition, which M. Rothschild was instructed to present to the King of Prussia. The Prussian Commissioner, however, refused the necessary permission. Burgomaster Fellner has hanged himself out of despair at the manner in which the Prussians have acted toward the city and himself. The Prussians have had a list drawn up of members of the Senate and other municipal bodies, together with a statement of their landed and moveable property.

All the bankers have held a meeting, at which it was declared that if violence of this kind were resorted to they would suspend payment in Germany and abroad. The whole amount of the two contributions levied by the Prussians is twenty-five million florins. Valuables and plate have been removed to a very large extent. There had been a run on the banks, which the bank officers encouraged. The principal newspapers have been suppressed. The troops are quartered on the residents.

Mr. Murphy, the American Consul, is issuing protection papers, exempting them from disturbance. The sudden growth of the American population is astonishing.

BERLIN, July 26.—The official gazette of to-day justifies the course pursued by Prussia in levying a war contribution of twenty-five million florins upon the inhabitants of Frankfort on the following grounds: The systematic hostility shown toward Prussia by the government of Frankfort; the publication by the latter of articles in the Frankfort press, insulting to the King of Prussia; the violation of treaties; the damage done to Prussian property, and Frankfort's participation in the war carried on by the Austrian coalition against Prussia.

Indians Again Troublesome.

ST. LOUIS, August 8.—The Republican's St. Joseph special says: A dispatch from Fort Laramie, dated August 1, states that the Indian war has commenced again. Several white men have been killed near Fort Reno, and the Indians are stealing and driving off large numbers of cattle.

Another dispatch, dated Julesburg, August 2d, says: A Government herd at Fort Laramie, and a lot of cattle belonging to a ranchman, one mile from the Fort, were driven off by the Indians. They also burned three forts on Powder river, and killed thirty-five men. They destroyed several trains in the vicinity of Fort Connor, and killed a number of people. The latter dispatch is not fully credited.

Steamer Bostona Totally Destroyed by Fire on the Ohio River.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, August 9.—The steamer Bostona caught fire last night, just below Maysville, Kentucky, and burned to the water's edge. Nearly all the passengers and crew were saved. One is missing and two are badly burned. The loss in cattle and freight is heavy. The steamer was nearly new and valued at $100,000; insured for $60,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Wreck of Canadian Schooner Elmira.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 9.—A heavy northeast storm is prevailing to-day on Lake Ontario. The Canadian Schooner Elmira, laden with stave bolts, in endeavoring to enter the harbor of Genessee, about 9 o'clock this morning, struck upon the sunken east pier and became a wreck. Capt. J. H. Ledyard manned a life boat with twelve stout men and rescued the crew, who were clinging to the rigging as the waves swept over the wreck.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Law Concerning Smuggling—Dispatch from Indian Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Enquiry has been made at the Treasury Department with regard to the penalties which would be incurred by Canadian vessels shipping goods at any port of the United States on our northern frontiers, with the intention of reshipping them to Canada, either by the same or other vessels, with intent to evade the provisions of the fourth section of the navigation act of 1817, for the better protection of American vessels. It may be stated that such disposition of goods, wares, or merchandise is in direct violation of the twentieth section of a recent law for the prevention of smuggling, which went into effect immediately after its passage. It will render the goods in transit liable to be seized and forfeited to the United States, and the vessel shall pay a tonnage duty of fifty cents per ton upon her admeasurement.

Commissioner Cooley has received from Orrin Guernsey, special Indian Commissioner, the following dispatch, dated Fort Berthold, Dacotah Territory, July 26th: We have now been here several days, and have not yet concluded a treaty with the Indians at this point, but think we shall to-day.

Soldiers' Claims for Money Stolen from Them by the Rebels.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Washington specials say that claims by soldiers for money taken from them by the rebel authorities while prisoners of war will be received until the 1st of October, and not afterwards. All soldiers having such claims must send their address to the Commissary General of Prisoners. The exact amount due and character of the funds taken by the rebels must be stated.

General Hunter, at his own request, has been placed upon the retired list.

Alleged Outrage by Colored Troops.

MEMPHIS, August 9.—The officers of the Mollie Hambleton report, as they passed Helena, Ark., Tuesday evening, fifty-six of the U. S. Colored Infantry, which were there awaiting transportation to St. Louis, thence to the Plains, had taken possession of the town and were firing indiscriminately upon the whites. They swore they intended burning the place and would kill every white. One citizen, named Gallbraith, had been fatally wounded. The excitement was intense, and the citizens were fleeing towards the woods for safety.

National Pomological Society.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—The meeting of the National Pomological Society, assigned for the 4th of September, in St. Louis, has been postponed until next year, when it will take place in that city. Mr. Wilder, President of the Society, gives sufficient reasons for the change, in a circular to members.

POLITICAL.

New York National Union Convention

SARATOGA, August 9.—The National Union Convention of the State of New York met in the Union Hotel Opera House, at noon to-day, and was called to order by Hon. Richard Schell, of New York, on whose motion Hon. Homer A. Nelson was appointed temporary chairman. The delegates and outsiders present numbered about 600. Mr. Nelson, on taking the chair, made a short speech, and on motion the chair was authorized to appoint a Committee of 61 on Permanent Organizations, when a recess until 4 o'clock this afternoon was ordered on. Reassembling, Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, was introduced to the Convention as the friend of Andrew Johnson, and advocate of his policy.

On re-assembling this evening, Senator Doolittle addressed the Convention. He said that in dealing with the problems which he has brought, we should follow in the footsteps of Lincoln, with charity for all, malice toward none. He thought the South had been sufficiently punished. Now was the time for magnanimity, and President Johnson had changed with the change in the attitude of the people, and [illegible] would yet prove to be, through the American people, as magnanimous in peace as he was powerful in war.

Committee on Organization reported Robt. Pruyn, of Albany, as President, and a long list of Vice Presidents. Mr. Pruyn made a few remarks to the same purport.

The following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the following propositions or platform of principles put forth by the National Union Convention in the call under which this Convention is now assembled, meets our unqualified approval.

Resolved, That as members of this Convention, representing the public sentiment of the State of New York, we rejoice in an opportunity to express our unfaltering confidence in the ability and honesty of the Chief Executive of the Nation, and in his fidelity to the great principles of Constitutional law and liberty, upon which the future safety and welfare of the nation depend.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the restoration of all the States lately in rebellion, but which are now loyal, to their full practical relation to the Union, including the right of representation in Congress in all cases of the legal election of loyal men, and that we have with feelings of satisfaction witnessed the ultimate, though practical and reluctant, acknowledgement of this right, by which the State of Tennessee, long and unjustly excluded, was permitted to resume her appropriate sphere of duty, and fraternity, at the close of the last session of Congress.

Resolved, That we deprecate the failure of Congress to co-operate in the measures for the restoration of the Union, upon the honorable and advantageous terms initiated by the late President, and adopted by his successor, and also its postponement of measures which would lead to such restoration, and the adoption of those involving prodigal waste of the national treasury and expenditure of public money.

Resolved, That the results of the late war have forever set at rest the questions out of which it arose, and that the efforts of the people of all these States should now be directed to the repair of the ravages by the development of the resources of our common country, endeared to us so much the more by the perils through which it has passed.

Resolved, That the thanks of the country are due to our brave soldiers and seamen who have periled their lives in defence of our institutions, that we may mourn the loss of hundreds of thousands who have laid down their lives upon the altar of our common country; that the Government and whole people should forever cherish their memory with pride and affection, and make ample provision for the comfortable support of their families.

Delegates to Philadelphia Convention were selected: At large—John A. Dix, H. J. Raymond, Charles J. Myers, H. L. Comstock, S. J. Tilden, Wm. Kelley, Hiram Denio, Sanford E. Church. Four members from each district were also chosen.

The Convention adjourned at a late hour to-night.

Johnson Mass Convention at Detroit.

DETROIT, Aug. 9.—The Johnson Mass Convention, held here to-day, appointed the following delegates to the Philadelphia Convention: At large—James F. Joy, Gen. A. S. Williams, Gen. C. O. Loomis, Gen. G. A. Custer. District Delegates—Henry Barnes, J. J. Newett, O. B. Clarke, J. G. Parkhurst, James Munroe, E. C. Seaman, Gen. A. A. Stevens, W. B. Thomas, Byron G. Stone, John Atkinson, S. B. Bliss, A. W. Brockway. Resolutions were adopted approving the restoration policy of President Johnson; the admission to Congress of loyal members, and the principles set forth in the call for the Philadelphia Convention; also that of the admission to the Philadelphia Convention as delegates of those who in the States not in rebellion failed to support the Government during the war would be unwise. The Democratic State Central Committee also appointed delegates to the Philadelphia Convention as follows: At large—Charles E. Stuart, A. C. Baldwin, M. J. Mills, Chas. H. Taylor. District Delegates—Wm. P. Wells, G. C. Munroe, C. W. Landon, T. B. Smith, O. M. Barnes, C. Goslin, A. C. Bell, L. G. Mason, E. W. Davis, H. Castler, J. W. Paine, M. Jeffers.

The store of Wm. Summers, of Utica, Michigan, was entered by burglars last night. The safe was blown open and robbed of $5,000. A supposed culprit was arrested in this city to-night.

Johnson Executive Committee—Vallandigham to be Excluded.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Post's Washington special says: The Johnson Executive Committee left this city for Philadelphia to-day. At their meeting last night they favored the election of George Ashmun as President of the Convention. It seems to be fully resolved that Vallandigham will not be permitted to take a seat in the Convention.

Union Convention at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Aug. 9.—The Republican State Convention met at Springfield to-day. Resolutions were adopted cordially endorsing Congress. Gen. John A. Logan was nominated for Congress, by acclamation.

Democratic Conveniton in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—The Democratic Convention of the Sixteenth District yesterday nominated Judge Van Trump for Congress. The delegates to the Philadelphia Convention were elected.

Democratic Congressional Nomination.

SACO, ME., August 9.—L. D. M. Sweat, of Portland, was nominated for Congress, by the Democratic Convention of the 1st District, held here to-day.

John A. Bingham Renominated.

CINCINNATI, August 9.—The Union Convention of the Sixteenth District have renominated John A. Bingham for Congress.

FROM MEXICO.

Gen. Santa Anna's Services Declined—The Reasons Therefor Given.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Mr. Romero, the Mexican Minister, received to-day official despatches from his government, dated at Chihuahua, up to the 5th ult. The Mexican government had taken in consideration the tender of Gen. Santa Anna's services, made to President Juarez, and concluded not to accept them, assigning the following reasons: Because Santa Anna, being one of the originators and promoters of the plan to take foreign intervention to Mexico, his sincerity cannot be depended upon now, because the American people have lost all confidence in him, and cannot, therefore, place any reliance on him. His presence in Mexico would only excite distrust and fears, and would only be an element of discord and weakness. The next copy of the official papers of Chihuahua will publish all the papers in connection with this affair and among them will be a very able letter from the Secretary of State, of Mexico, setting forth his reasons for declining Santa Anna's services.

Railroad Accident.

SUNBURY, PA., August 9.—At three o'clock this morning a train of five lumber cars was thrown off the track below Williamsport and Sunbury, on the Pennsylvania & Erie Railroad. The engine and tender were turned over into a ditch. The engineer, J. W. Butler, was, by this occurrence, buried in the sand nearly up to his head, and was dug out. The extent of his injuries was a sprained ankle. Passengers traveling in different directions were forced by the accident to change cars on each side of the wreck.

Daring House Robbery.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—Four men with blackened faces entered the house of Edwin Krider, in the southern outskirts of the city, last night, and threatened the life of Krider and his wife, obtained the keys, and ransacking the house, made off with $5,400 in specie, and also stole some watches and other valuables.

Cholera Among the Negroes.

SAVANNAH, GA., Aug. 9.—Cholera has broken out among the negroes at Lawson's place, near Braddock's point. Twelve deaths have occurred since Monday, including two whites.

A Cotton Bale for the President.

AUGUSTA, GA., August 9.—The first bale of new cotton received at Macon, has been purchased by the citizens of that place, and shipped as a present to President Johnson.

A Parisian Cafe.

In a Parisian cafe you will find as many women as men—respectable women, too, who come with their husbands, and bring their children with them. There they sit in a family group round a marble table, sipping their coffee or their wine, thinking it no shame to be seen by any of their neighbors, because there is nothing to be ashamed of. The cafe is not simply a drinking shop. There is no necessity to drink anything stronger than coffee; and you may sit at the table as long as you please, read the paper, play at dominoes, or chat with your friends. All the amenities of private life are strictly observed; they're gallant—polite; you never—or very rarely indeed—see any one tipsy. There is nothing about the place to suggest the drinking shop, or to impress you with the obligation to drink. You feel that you are at liberty to take your ease and pleasure, and do as you like. So accustomed is the landlord to look upon his house as a place for the convenience and general entertainment of the public, that he will sometimes take more interest in a game of dominoes or piquet than in the vending of his goods. Madam will have to shriek to him to come and attend to his own business. In Paris even the lowest classes take their wine like gentlemen; in London they swill their liquor like pigs. A London public house is a trough.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Opening of the Campaign in Allegheny—Mass Meeting in Front of City Hall—Speeches, &c.

A large and enthusiastic Republican mass meeting was held in front of the City Hall, Allegheny, last evening. A little before eight o'clock, the Hon. Alfred Slack called the meeting to order, and nominated the following list of gentlemen, who were chosen to serve as officers of the meeting:

President—Hon. Thomas Williams.

Vice Presidents—Gen. Wm. Robinson, Josiah King, Esq., H. E. Davis, John Brown, Jr., A. Hobson, Col. Geo. Gerst, Col. James M. Cooper, M. A. Woodward, H. M. Burkhardt.

Secretaries—Reporters of the press.

On taking the chair the President alluded in a few pertinent remarks to the importance of the issues involved in the present campaign, and advised all friends of liberty and justice to stand by the principles enunciated in the policy of the last Congress, as in them alone rested the hopes of the American people.

Mr. Williams concluded by introducing Col. Jordan, Chairman of the State Central Committee, to the audience, who came forward, and, after waiting until [illegible] had been created by his appearance died out, began his address by thanking his auditors for their kind reception, and went on to review the situation of public affairs prior to the inauguration of civil war by Southern traitors. In the course of his remarks he said: After we had accepted war as the only alternative to settle the great conflict between right and wrong—between freedom on the one hand and slavery on the other—and carried that war, despite the impediments Northern traitors cast in our way, to a glorious conclusion—after we had sacrificed all that was near and dear to us—after we had drenched the traitor soil of the South with the blood of our brothers, and re-established the control of the government over the rebellious States—after all this, we are asked to-day to reinstate those conquered rebels and allow them to come back into the halls of the National Legislature and govern and make laws for the loyal people of the North. The President has acceded to their wishes and become the tool of those very men who but a short time since thirsted for his blood. The President advanced a plan of reconstruction and Congress another. What is the material difference between these plans? In the first place, the Executive demands that Congress admit into their body men who have acted a conspicuous part in the bloody drama of treason who sought to destroy and undermine that government on which the welfare of future generations were reposed. Congress says that while we are willing to admit representatives from the Southern States, we are not willing to admit any save loyal men. What is a loyal man? One, who after four years' battling to destroy the nation, comes forward and takes a compulsory oath of allegiance? No. What assurance have we that that oath shall not be violated as have the oaths of those traitors who left the halls of Congress at the outbreak of the war and took up arms against the Constitution they had repeatedly sworn to support, protect and defend. We would have the South represented by men who during the dark days of treason and rebellion stood by the old flag or struck not a blow at its defenders.

There is where the President and Congress differ. There is the question of conflict, and on this question we have rested our faith and have chosen to go before the jury of the people, willing that they should pass their judgment upon it, and censure or endorse our policy as in their wisdom they see fit. We wish to see the very germ of rebellion eradicated, and for that purpose have amended the constitution abolishing slavery forever in these United States. But those sticklers for constitutional rights—those fellows who profess to have great veneration for the Constitution, cry out, "Don't amend the charter of our liberties; it was good enough for our fathers, and surely it is good enough for us." Why did they not think so ere they attempted to overthrow that Constitution, and subvert the Government of which it was the supreme law. But the war has amended the Constitution. It has not abolished slavery by a slow and gradual process, but plucked it out by the roots, and destroyed it as a system forever, that is, as long as traitors can be kept from ruling the government. But the constitution should and will be amended. We will amend it by not allowing the white traitor of the South, to use the negro against us by representation in Congress. We will amend it by declaring all men born on the soil of either of the States that form this Union free and equal before the law.

In the reconstruction plan of Congress there is nothing degrading, nothing humiliating, but there is a security against all future danger from treason. If we did not insist on this security, then we would be recreant to the trust of the custodians of human liberty. They talked about making traitors odious. But in what instance has treason been made odious? Where is the traitor that has in any way suffered for his crime? Not one.

In the struggle for national existence no part of the noble old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania rendered more effective aid to the cause than did Allegheny county. Then, buckle on the armor, and make one more charge in defence of the old flag. In John W. Geary the people have a candidate every way worthy of their support. He is a representative man and a soldier, whose sword has ever been raised in the cause of his country and of right. He served with honor and distinction through the Mexican war, and he was one among the very first that entered the army of the Union to conquer traitors. From the plains of Virginia to the lagoons of Georgia, from Chattanooga to Savannah, he wrote with his sword a record that years cannot efface or time tarnish. His son he sacrificed on the altar of his country, and from the time the flag was lowered in disgrace at Sumter, until it fluttered in triumph at Goldsborough, he was true to the cardinal doctrine of liberty and unity. After again exhorting them to be true to the issue and stand by their noble standard-bearer, the speaker retired amid a storm of applause from the multitude.

The next speaker was the Hon. William F. [illegible], of Somerset county.

We are sorry to be unable to give even an abstract of this gentleman's address, which was, in fact, a brilliant oratorial effort, replete with logic and sound common sense views.

He reverted to the approaching Convention at Philadelphia, termed it a mongrel gathering of many colors, and expressed it as his belief that on their assembling they would be unable to know what they really did believe or want, and that the whole affair would end in a conflict of opinion consequent on the assembling of men of so many views and opinions. He also alluded to the fact that one-half were Northern traitors, with a sprinkling of renegade Republicans, and the other half notorious rebels of that reconstructed type so much in favor with the President.

Hon. George V. Lawrence, of Washington county, was the last speaker. He spoke for almost an hour, and was listened to throughout with marked attention by the large audience, who frequently showed their appreciation of his efforts to instruct them by enthusiastic outbursts of applause. He referred to the 22d of February speech, and said that never before had he cause to blush for his country as he did blush on that day, standing before the White House listening to that Chief Executive of a great nation haranguing a low mob.

At the conclusion of the gentlemen's remarks the meeting adjourned, with three cheers for Geary, Congress and the Union.

Pennsylvania State Equal Rights' League—Second Day's Session.

The Convention of colored men, representing this organization, continued in session yesterday.

After the adoption of the report of the Executive Board and that of the Solicitor, Rev. J. W. Logan addressed the meeting, congratulating the League on the success and permanency of the organization; characterizing it as the most complete union of the colored people in any of the States. He urged upon the members to continue their efforts to secure their political rights, assuring them that they would be obliged to rely on their own efforts, as they could expect nothing from our accidental President. He promised his earnest co-operation. He related some humorous incidents of his slave life, and also some reminiscences of his personal experience with the "Accidental," and closed with his benediction on the labors of the League.

Mr. D. B. Bowser, on behalf of the Car Committee, reported the operations of the Committee in Harrisburg, during the last session of our State Legislature. After the bill had passed the House, it was kept back in the Senate by the infidelity of one of the members, a professed friend of the bill. There were in the Senate a majority of four who would have voted for the bill if it could have been brought before that body. The Committee feel sanguine that next winter such a bill will be passed by the Legislature as will secure to all persons, regardless of color, the right to ride in all railway cars throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. B. W. Arnett, representative of the Brownsville League, recited the formation of a Joint Stock Association, and the establishment of a store, which is doing a flourishing business. The Association has been incorporated by the State Legislature, and is doing a great work in the direction of elevating the people of his locality. He urged upon the auxiliary Leagues the propriety and necessity of taking similar action.

The day was occupied principally in amendments to the League Constitution, the Business Committee not having reported.

The Dead Rat Revives and a New Tale Unfolds.

The superannuated local of the Dispatch, better known in the community as the "dead rat," has had a powerful current of electricity passed down his back bone and again straightens himself up to fight it out on his own "lyne." We received our particulars from the mother of the children killed, and if Dr. McCandless knew the circumstances he should have advised the Coroner, so that a legal investigation might have been held. We have no idea of again entering the arena with the "dead rat," since we have given name and authority for our statements. We now leave the matter rest between the parents, Dr. McCandless, Coroner Clawson, and the "dead rat" of the Dispatch.

An Alleged Thief Arrested.—A colored man named John Scott was committed to jail by Mayor McCarthy yesterday on a charge of larceny and assault and battery with intent to kill, preferred against him by Richard Barr. The latter discovered Scott attempting to make off with some pieces of iron belonging to the former and endeavored to arrest him. In his struggle to escape he beat his captor over the head with the iron, inflicting several severe wounds.

Charged With an Attempt to Outrage—William Anderson was before Alderman Lynch, yesterday, charged with assaulting a certain Jane Jager, with a felonious intent to outrage her person. The accused is a boy of fifteen, while the prosecutrix is fully fifty. After a hearing, William was discharged.

Meeting of Allegheny Councils.

The Councils of Allegheny City held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, August 9th.

Select Council.—Present: Messrs. Drum, Hall, Irwin, J. B. Smith, C. C. Smith, Wm. Smith, Thomas, Irwin and President McBrier.

The reading of the minutes of last meeting, on motion, was dispensed with.

Mr. Wm. Smith presented a remonstrance from the property holders on North Canal street against any further paving of the same. Referred to Street Committee to report.

Mr. J. B. Smith presented the report of the Street Committee, covering the following resolutions and ordinances:

Resolved, That the Committee on Streets be and they are hereby authorized to procure from Mr. R. N. Smith such castings as may be necessary for the sewers now being constructed, at the rate of 4½ cents per pound.

An ordinance for the extension of the West Common sewer through to the bed of the canal, instead of connecting it with the old stone sewer on said Common.

Also, an ordinance repealing an ordinance adopted July 12th, 1866, entitled "an ordinance changing the width of sidewalks on Central street."

Also, an ordinance [illegible] grading and paving of Davis's alley.

Also, the following:

Resolved, That the Committee on Streets be and they are hereby authorized to enter into a contract for raising the sidewalks on Western avenue to such a height as will admit of the water flowing through the sewer into the drop beneath.

The report was accepted and the resolutions and ordinances adopted.

Mr. A. D. Smith presented the report of the Committee instructed to investigate the charges against the Superintendent of the Water Works, with the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we condemn and censure the individuals comprising the firm of Dickson, Marshall & Co., for preferring the charges contained in their communication to the Water Committee, dated July 12, 1866, and also for attempting to bribe an official of this city, as they themselves admit. We do, therefore, hereby declare that said firm have forfeited all right to our confidence and esteem.

Mr. A. D. Smith presented a communication from the City Controller, with a resolution authorizing the payment of monthly bills amounting in the aggregate to $8,217.97; also a statement of the amount of payments to date, August 1st, viz: $128,279.14. The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Drum presented the report of the Water Committee, covering the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Water be, and they are hereby, instructed to lease the Water Works lot for a lumber yard for five years, subject to the right of re-entry on six months' notice, at the yearly rate of $300; for the balance of this year $100 and the grading of the lot.

The Committee reported, relative to the complaint of citizens on Sandusky street as to the stoppage of the supply of water, that no relief could be afforded, the deficiency arising from the incapacity of the main pipe.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted. That portion of the report relating to supply of water on Sandusky street was referred back to the Committee to report.

Mr. A. D. Smith offered a resolution, which was adopted, "that the Committee on Finance be, and they are, hereby instructed to audit the accounts of the Trust Committee, and that the treasurer, under instruction of the Finance Committee, be, and he is, hereby authorized to receive from said Trust Committee all the assets of the city now in their hands, growing out of said trust, and issue his receipt for the same."

Mr. A. D. Smith presented the report of the Finance Committee, submitting a resolution, "that the Finance Committee be, and they are, hereby instructed to invest the funds now in the hands of the Trust Committee, in municipal bonds of the city, giving the preference to those falling due in 1870." The resolution was adopted.

Mr. J. B. Smith presented a profile of the grade of North Canal street, which, after considerable discussion, was adopted.

Mr. Patterson presented an ordinance relative to the inspection of salt, fixing the fees at three cents per 280 lbs., and also regulating the weight. Referred to Ordinance Committee, with instructions to report an ordinance fixing the fees for inspection at five cents per barrel.

Mr. Smith, an ordinance repealing the ordinance passed March 5th, 1866, authorizing the grading and paving of Allegheny avenue, from Ridge to Rebecca streets. Adopted.

Mr. Irwin presented the report of the Committee on City Property. The Committee have contracted with James Hawkins for grading the Second and Third ward squares of the Diamond, at the rate of seventy-five cents per cubic yard, the earth to be placed on the wharf between East Lane and Walnut street. The Committee reported a resolution authorizing the Controller to certify a warrant in favor of Mr. Hawkins for the sum of five hundred dollars, in part payment of his contract, for work already done.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Patterson presented an ordinance regulating the inspection and measuring of bark. Adopted.

In all of which action the Common Council concurred.

On motion, adjourned.

In Common Council—All members present, except Mr. Heckelorn. Minutes of preceding regular and special meetings read and approved.

Mr. Hanna presented the petition for the opening of Greene alley, east of Chestnut street, in the Third ward, a distance of one hundred and nineteen feet. The alley has been partially opened, and citizens residing thereon are willing to pay damages accruing from the improvement. The petition was accepted, and, on motion, the Presidents of Councils were instructed to appoint a board of viewers to apportion and assess the benefits and damages.

Mr. English, a petition from members of the Grant steam engine company, praying Councils to liquidate a debt of five hundred and fifty-three dollars, incurred in improving their engine house. A long debate ensued, during which it was stated that bills of the company amounting to $300 had already been paid, with the understanding that the bill would be settled by the company. The petition was referred to a special committee to report at next meeting.

Mr. Brown, a petition from residents of Buena Vista street, in the second ward, praying for the opening of said street from Jackson street to Taylor avenue. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Mr. Hanna, the report of the Committee on Markets, together with the following abstracts of the reports of the Weighmasters and Clerk of Market:

John S. Edgar, Diamond Scales	$212 38
W. T. Anderson, 2d Ward	274 62
Duncan Dallas, Clerk of Market	2,292 25
Total	$2,779 25

The report was accepted and ordered to be filed.

Mr. Reed presented a report from the Committee on Engines, with resolutions authorizing the Controller to advertise for five hundred feet of hose for the Washington Hose Company, and also to purchase two horses for the Hope Steam Engine and Hose Company. Report accepted and the resolutions adopted.

Mr. Hanna presented the following communication:

ALLEGHENY CITY, August 5, 1866. To the Presidents of Select and Common Councils—GENTS: In answer to your resolution of inquiry of the 12th ult., we would respectfully report that the Trust Commissioners have never paid into the treasury the proceeds of the stock of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. They have, however, made a report of the condition of their trust, which is herewith submitted. They further report, verbally, that they desire Councils to appoint a Committee to audit their accounts to this date and also to receive and receipt for their vouchers.

R. B. FRANCIS, Controller.
D. MACPHERSON, Treasurer.

The report was accepted and the Controller and Treasurer were authorized to audit the Commissioners' accounts and furnish the necessary receipts. The Select Council non-concurred and referred the matter to the Finance Committee, C. C. receded and concurred with S. C.

In all of which action the Select Council concurred.

On motion, adjourned.

Death of Capt. Dunlevy—Bar Meeting.

The members of the Pittsburgh Bar held a meeting yesterday forenoon to take action concerning the death of Capt. James A. Dunlevy, noticed yesterday. Jas. S. Croft, Esq., was called to the chair, and Col. R. Biddle Roberts and Gen. A. L. Pearson chosen Secretaries. On motion, John N. M'Clowry, A. M. Brown and John R. Large, Esqs., were appointed a Committee on Resolutions, and reported the following, which were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Bar of Pittsburgh have heard with sincere regret of the sudden death of their late fellow member, James A. Dunlevy, Esq., and do

Resolve, That by this visitation of Providence the Bar has lost an accomplished and amiable member, and the community a brave, patriotic and self-sacrificing citizen—one whose devotion to his country in her hour of peril entitles his memory to a lasting place in the affections and gratitude of his countrymen.

Resolved, That we will attend the funeral of the deceased; and wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the officers of this meeting be a Committee to transmit to the family of the deceased a copy of these resolutions, with the expression of our condolence in thier sad and untimely bereavement.

Addresses were made by John N. M'Clowry, Esq., C. D. M. Smith, Esq., Hon. E. H. Stowe, A. M. Brown, Esq., and John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq.

City Mortality.

Dr. George L. McCook, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments from July 30th, to August 5th 1866:

Males	12	White	21	Total	23
Females	11	Colored	2

Of the above there were under 1 year, 6; from 1 to 2, 3; 2 to 5, 2; 20 to 30, 4; 30 to 40, 3; 40 to 50, 2; 60 to 70, 2; 80 to 90, 1.

The diseases in the above cases were: Accident, 2; Phthisis, 1; Tubercular Bronchitis, 1; Phthisis Pulmonalis, 1; Cholera Morbus, 1; Typhoid Fever, 1; Sporadic Cholera, 2; Old Age, 1; Disease of Brain, 2; Meningitis, 1; Diptheria, 1; Unknown, 1; Summer Complaint, 2; Brain Fever, 1; Cholera Infantum, 2; Uremia, 1; Small Pox, 1; Still Born, 1.

Captured.—Stauffer, the man that defrauded Burkhardt, of this city, out of his horses and buggy at Kittanning, a few days since, was captured near Greenville, Mercer county, on Tuesday last, and is now in jail. He was having a general good time when arrested, and had spent nearly all the money received from Burkhardt. He made several attempts to sell the team, but seemed to be in a hurry to part with it. The transaction has cost Burkhardt about one hundred and fifty dollars, and will no doubt be a lesson to him in future.

A Palace on Wheels—Railroad Directors' Car—An Excursion to Ohio.

There has just been completed by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway car builders, at Fort Wayne, Indiana, the most elegant and palatial car ever placed upon rails in America. It was built upon a somewhat novel and original design, furnished by that enterprising and indefatigable railway monarch of the west—Vice President Durant, of the Union Pacific Railroad, and may safely be ranked as the most comfortable palace upon wheels in America. It is fifty-seven feet in length, by ten feet in width, and much higher than ordinary cars. The springs are peculiarly constructed so as to give the car, while in motion, an oscillating movement, which materially lessens the jolting and jarring common to all railway carriages. The wheels are held by patent iron brakes of great strength, and which are operated by the least power imaginable. The exterior of the car is beautifully finished and ornamented with rich designs in fresco and painting. In an oval centre piece upon the middle of either side of the car is fixed in golden letters the following inscription: "Officers car of the Union Pacific Railroad, [illegible]," and above the windows, immediately under the ventilators, is another golden inscription designating the road for which the car was built.

The platform guards are plated with silver, and present a very chaste and elegant appearance. The door of the front of the car and the wood work about, and in fact every particle of wood about the interior, is of rich, dark walnut, so highly polished that to mistake it for a mirror would be a pardonable offense. It bears elaborate carvings, and contains two beautifully engraved French plate glass windows or look-outs. The first chamber of the car, as we enter, is the "Porter's Room," wherein is kept all the necessary conveniences for the use and comfort of persons taking long trips by rail. Through this we enter a magnificent saloon, fitted out in a style that would do credit to a Penn street parlor. Every article of furniture is of the richest and most luxurious style, and yet has an air of comfort and durability. This magnificent parlor is converted in a minute's time into either a dining room or bed chamber. The centre table is so arranged that by simply pulling apart it is transferred from a beautiful piece of furniture into a plain, good old fashioned breakfast table of no ordinary size. The sofas and tete-a-tetes are likewise drawn out, and by the most simple machinery imaginable, are turned into luxurious couches. Next we enter the ladies' sleeping cabin, which is furnished in a style equally grand as the parlor. Adjoining this we have the gentlemen's sleeping apartment, which is similarly constructed and furnished. At the rear we enter a cosy little "lookout office," which may be used either for a friendly chat and smoke together, or as a post of observation, from which the Directors inspect the condition of the road over which the car passes. All these departments are made separate and distinct from each other by close fitting doors and partitions. The entire floor is covered with the finest of carpet, while the berths are hung with rich brocatelle curtains, ornamented with golden yellow fringe. We confess that we have not given the reader the remotest idea of this new and unrivaled railway palace. It was built under the immediate supervision of William Waddington, the master car builder of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, at a cost of $19,300, and will long remain a moving monument to the skill, enterprise and mechanical ability of the workmen employed at the Fort Wayne car works.

AN EXCURSION.

Preparatory to forwarding the car to its destination, the leading officers of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Pittsburgh & Cleveland and the Lawrence Railroad Companies, members of the Pittsburgh press, and a few ladies, made an excursion yesterday to New Castle, and Lowell, Ohio. The excursion train consisted of a baggage car, the Directors' iron car of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, and the new Union Pacific Railroad car, which we have just endeavored to describe. The excursionists left at eight o'clock in the morning, at noon took a sumptuous dinner which had been previously prepared and stored away in the side-boards of the Directors' car, and returned at five o'clock in the evening.

Everybody was highly pleased with the trip and were delighted with the accommodations afforded. Of the new Lawrence road, in progress of construction, and completed thus far to Lowell, Ohio, we shall again speak. In concluding our notice of the excursion, we should not fail noticing the good judgment displayed by the Railway officials in selecting such competent officers as had charge of the train. Robert Scott, Esq., was at his post as conductor, a position which he fills with as much grace as any mortal could command. Mr. W. G. Tabor presided at the engine, while J. A. Drexler, the most careful of brakemen, occupied the platform. With such a set of train officers all felt secure and comfortable. We desire to extend our thanks to all the officials of the road for the pleasure of participating in too very pleasant excursion with the new car.

United States District Court.

Hon. Wilson McCandless presiding.

THURSDAY, August 9.—Court met at the usual hour, ten o'clock.

In the case of John Haggerty, against whom there were two indictments for passing counterfeit money, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, (both indictments being tried together,) and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

On motion of District Attorney R. B. Carnahan, the cases of the following parties, charged with passing and dealing in counterfeit money, were continued until the October term: Jesse Province, Isaac Thompson, Joseph Buffington, J. Mishoney, Benjamin Barr, John Meets and James Neth. The parties were all required to enter three thousand dollars bail each for their appearance at the time stated.

Court sitting in Admiralty, Helmbacher & Bro., Lewis Foulman and Joseph McEntire were made parties libellant and allowed to intervene with T. A. Packard et. al. in their libel against the steamboat Spray.

The Grand Jury presented two bills against the following persons, indicted on various charges:

United States vs. John Gill and John M'Gurn; charge, passing counterfeit money.

United States vs. Wm. Dalzell; charge, selling and having in his possession counterfeit fractional currency.

The charge against Zelotes L. Webster for exercising the business of conveyancer without United States license was returned ignoramus.

On motion of Thomas J. Keenan, Esq., Samuel O. Taylor, of Wheeling, West Virginia, was admitted to practice in the United States Court.

The case of James U. Gillispie, charged with retailing lumber in the Twenty-third Collection District without United States Revenue license, was first taken up. It seems that Gillespie and seventeen others who hold United States licenses in the Nineteenth District have been selling lumber in the Twenty-third District, claiming that under a license taken out in a single district they were entitled to sell in any other. The jury returned a special verdict, reserving the points of law for argument and the decision of the Court.

Death of an Aged Citizen.

We are called upon to-day to chronicle the death of one of our most venerable and respected of citizens, Mr. William Henry Gearing, who died last night at the residence of his son, Captain Charles Gearing, South Pittsburgh. The deceased had attained the extraordinary age of ninety-five years and five months. A few weeks previous to his death he was as active and strong as most men are at fifty. He lost but one tooth since his childhood, and up till the day of death, could read small print with ease and comfort without using glasses, an article which he never wore. After he had passed ninety years of age he walked on foot to Zelienople, Pa., a distance of about twenty-five miles, and returned in the same manner a few days after. He was born in Germany, emigrated to this country in 1800, and located himself at Lancaster, Pa., where he kept a store for some thirty odd years, after which he came to this city. He leaves about two hundred and forty-six living descendants—children, grand children and great grand children. A few weeks previous to his death he thought little of walking up and down Coal Hill several times during the day. He was a very remarkable man, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him during life. His funeral takes place this afternoon at three o'clock from Captain Gearing's residence, in South Pittsburgh.

Big Snake Story.—We were called upon yesterday by M. M. Higby, of Peebles township, who informed us that on Wednesday afternoon, while crossing Squirrel Hill, he encountered a large brown snake, which, after considerable trouble, he succeeded in killing. When dead it measured nine feet in length and eight and one-half inches in circumference. Mr. Higby states that it is totally unlike any specimen of the reptile family he has ever seen, and is by far the largest ever killed in that neighborhood. Will our neighbor of the Dispatch smell a rat in this?

The Opera House.—The Opera House will re-open for the fall and winter season, on Saturday, August the 18th. The interior of the building since the close of the season has undergone a complete renovation, the auditorium being entirely remodled and redecorated. Manager Hess has engaged an excellent company and so far the prospects for a brilliant season are exceedingly flattering.

Assault and Battery.—A modest looking damsel named Maggie Wickleman, came to the office of Alderman Lynch, yesterday, and preferred a charge of assault and battery against an individual named Thomas Meyers. The prosecutrix alleges that Thomas struck her with his fist and lacerated her cloak with his finger nails. Thomas was held to answer at court.

Two Cases.—Dr. McCook, Physician to the Board of Health, reports that for the week ending August 5th, there were two deaths from "sporadic cholera," out of twenty-one from other causes, that is to say, the disease does not exist here as yet as an epidemic.

The Academy of Music.—Manager W. C. Smythe, formerly proprietor of Trimble's Varieties, and latterly of Cincinnati, will be associated with Fred. Ames in the management of the Academy of Music during the ensuing season.

Correction.—The advertisement of a lot for sale in Mansfield, by J. V. Rowland, as first erroneously published, stated that the property was sixteen minutes walk from the station. It should have read within ten minutes walk.

Charitable.—The Internal Revenue Commissioner has decided that a receipt rendered for money received for charitable purposes does not require a stamp if there is no payment.

A Wife Deserts her Husband and Runs Away With a Married Man—Their Arrest.

Some three weeks since, a man named Benjamin Evans, came to this city from Wellsville, Columbiana county, Ohio. He found employment in one of the rolling mills in the Fourth ward, and took lodgings in the family of R. K. Burch. About a week since, Mrs. Burch and Evans mysteriously disappeared. The deserted husband instituted diligent inquiries to ascertain their whereabouts, but without success, and he finally despaired of ever seeing them again. Yesterday, however, a daughter of Evans came up from Wellsville and went to the store of a merchant tailor on St. Clair street, who was acquainted with all the parties named, and told him her father was living with Mrs. Burch, in Allegheny. This desirable information was communicated to Burch, who immediately proceeded to the office of Alderman Lynch, and instituted proceedings against Evans and his wife, for adultery. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Connor, who repaired to the house in Allegheny, designated by Evans' daughter, where he found the missing ones seated at a table, quietly enjoying their noon meal. On the officer informing them of the nature of his mission, they offered no resistance or remonstrance, but accompanied him to the office of the magistrate, and in default of bail, they were committed to jail for a hearing to-morrow.

Delegate Elections.

The election for delegates—two from each district—to meet in Convention on Tuesday next, at the Court-house, to place in nomination a Union Republican candidate for Representative in Congress, will be held to-morrow—in the wards and boroughs, by ballot, between the hours of four and six o'clock, p. m., and in the townships, by marking, between four and seven o'clock.

By proper authority we are requested to state that the delegate candidates in the Sixth ward, favorable to the renomination of General Moorhead, are Messrs. Charles Jeremy and John Rebman.

An Acknowledgment.—We are indebted to Richard McElravy's excellent band for a serenade beneath our sanctum window last night. If the music performed on this occasion is a sample of the manner in which they execute musical compositions at all times, we are ready to lend our testimony to their capability as musicians. There is nothing harsh or grating in Richard's melody, it being, in fact, the very essence of symphony. For the courtesy shown us he has our thanks.

False Pretence.—James Canfield yesterday appeared before Alderman Lynch, and made oath against Patrick Cherry, for false pretence. It appears that Cherry procured a number of shoes from Canfield for the purpose of mending them, but failed to return them, and applied them to his own use. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Cherry.

For Trial.—United States Commissioner M'Candless has committed Michael Leonard, charged with making dies for counterfeiting national coin, to jail, in default of bail, for trial at the October term of the United States District Court.

Stamp Duties.—A convenient tabular exhibition of United States stamp duties as fixed by law to take effect from the 1st of August, 1866, has been compiled and published, and is for sale by John P. Hunt.

Corner Stone.—The corner stone of the new German Catholic church, on Troy Hill, will be laid on Sunday afternoon, and Rt. Rev. Bishop Domenec will participate in the ceremonies.

Held to Answer.—John Paradise was held to answer a charge of riot and assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of M. Berger. Paradise is one of the Iron City Park rioters.

Dead.—The estimable wife of Street Commissioner Flinn died at her home, in the Eighth ward, at half-past seven o'clock last evening, after an illness of ten hours.

DIED.

BECK—On Thursday morning, at his late residence, Woods Run, WILLIAM P. BECK, in the 42d year of his age.

The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral on SATURDAY MORNING, at 10 o'clock. Carriages will leave Allegheny end of St. Clair Street Bridge at 9 o'clock.

FLINN—On Thursday, the 9th inst., MARY ANN, wife of John Flinn, in the 42d year of her age.

THE UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP.

The Beaver Argus, in a valuable article on this subject, makes this strong declaration:

"It is a burning shame that Pennsylvania, one of the largest, wealthiest, and among the most loyal States of the Union, is represented in the United States Senate by two men, who, if not avowed traitors, are in direct sympathy with the enemies of the Government."

And it goes on to affirm, that an order to rectify this bad condition of affairs—

"No light or trifling causes should serve to operate against Union candidates for the State Legislature at our next election. As that Legislature will stand politically, so will our next Senator be. It will be the aim throughout the whole State, therefore, on the part of those who sympathize with treason, and are disposed to affiliate with traitors, to so divide the Union vote on candidates for Assembly and the Senate, as to enable them to obtain control of the next Legislature, and thus return Cowan or another like him to the United States Senate. To accomplish that the enemy will endeavor to raise false issues; and failing in this, will next resort to malignant personal attacks upon Union candidates, and by these means hope to disaffect enough of Union voters to bring their project about. Forewarned is forearmed; and we appeal to Union men everywhere to follow no false lights, heed no slanders of the opposing party, but march right forward in the discharge of a high and patriotic duty."

This is eminently well as far as it goes; but it does not cover the whole case. It is worse than a waste of time and labor for Republicans to exert themselves to elect members of the Legislature unless a reasonable probability exists that when elected they will conform, in important matters, and especially in matters of this gravity, to the traditions of the Republican party. The present conjuncture of affairs is not an ordinary one; and hence extraordinary precautions are not only allowable, but indispensable. It is better that an avowed Democrat should be elected, than a Republican who will yield to Presidential blandishments, and sell his party and principles in the Senatorial election to an office or a contract.

There is a necessity laid on the Republicans of each county in the Commonwealth to see that none but true men, who can withstand temptation, are put up as Legislative candidates. There are apprehensions that aspirants to the Federal Senatorship, failing to secure a majority in the Republican Legislative Caucus, may sell out to the Johnsonized Democrats, and prevail on a few of their Republican supporters in the Legislature to follow their lead. Any man whose course of conduct has been such, in these late months, as to beget such suspicions in the breasts of dispassionate and fair-minded individuals, ought speedily to find himself out of the category of possible candidates for the place. The Senate, rich as it is in eminent names, has already too few members who are conspicuous for both back-bone and common sense. Pennsylvania ought, in justice to her fame for unshaken loyalty throughout the war, and for devotion to impartial liberty, to reinforce the Senate with a man of the right stamp. Whoever is weak in the knees, or has an infirmity in the spinal column, or is suffering from a defective mental vision, or has a hankering after the "fleshpots," ought, without much ceremony, to be made to stand aside.

EUROPEAN WAR.

The King of Prussia returned to Berlin to open the Chambers, and on that occasion delivered a speech that not only does him credit, but fulfills our best hopes for a certain, though gradual, development of liberal principles in the Prussian, or, what signifies the same thing, in the new German government. The King, in a manly, open way, acknowledges the unconstitutionality of the actions of the Ministry, asks pardon, and confesses that such things ought not to re-occur. He gives as his excuse the absolute necessity of retaining certain military establishments, without which the present glorious achievement could not have been secured. In short, he expresses his excuses pretty much in the same manner as we presented them to our readers some time ago, and closes his harangue by a prayer for further good success.

The cable's dispatches furthermore mention as a rumor from Vienna, that the signing of the treaty of peace between Austria and Prussia was close at hand, but that Italy would not be included in it. Never fear. Prussia will not forsake her faithful ally after their recent manifestation of noble disinterestedness. If Italy is not included, that can signify nothing but that Italy and Austria are to enter into and conclude separate negotiations simply for the sake of greater convenience. The individual interests of the two allies are of so different a character, that it would be almost impossible to attend to them at the same time, and therefore instead of one peace, we may have a double peace, one branch forming in Prague, the other somewhere else, may be in Paris.

We confess that we scarcely comprehend the advances of Russia, proposing its mediation in a Congress of all the Powers, that met in Vienna, 1815. Some of these powers have ceased to exist, some keep up a fragmental existence, and others belong to fry so small, so insignificant and contemptible, that they deserve and would receive no consideration. What then in the world does Russia mean by making this odd proposal! The majority of the powers of 1815 would favor a confirmation or renovation of those treaties, and everybody knows that NAPOLEON detests them. Shall we be capable of finding a clue in this! Russia has always professed a strong friendship for this country, partly, perhaps, from real feeling, and partly to spite England and France. Never have these expressions of friendship been more fervent than now. Our late bearer of dispatches to Russia has been received with great ado, and the whole Russian fleet is moving to meet our vessels of war sent there. Now this ought not to be so remarkable in itself; but it becomes rather startling and awaking thought from the eagerness with which our cousins in England blow into the same horn. America is a great country; it is an honorable country, a country that deserves all credit for its equitable conduct in the Fenian affair; in short, a country with which we shall and ought to maintain the heartiest relation. The entente cordiale with the gentleman in Paris retreats to the background, and we repeat that this is the principal reason why our friends in England now put on such pleasant faces. They are getting tired hauling the chestnuts out of the fire for Napoleon, and taking their position always in his rear, capable of seeing only what he wants them to see.

At the same rate in which their friendly feelings for this country increase, they see, also the prospect of a renewed Germany with more contented eyes, and nothing would please us more than the dawning of the conviction in England that Germany is its natural ally against the aggressions of France, and not vice versa. England is beginning to awake; that is certain; but there may be many strange sights and changes in that country before it is daylight. Rotten privileges will have to fall asunder; aristocratic pride will have to humble itself; general education will have to be introduced into the working classes, before the government of England will represent the interests of the nation instead of the interests of its nabobs and peers; before that government will form its connections on the broad basis of sound principles and public sentiments.

We can wait, if we are only sure that the thing is to come, and this we wish for England's sake; for just as sure as she refuses to go ahead on the great track, which Destiny marks out for nations; just as sure as she allows a repetition of the mean, treacherous policy of a Palmerston, stern Justice will drive her out of the circle of nations, destined to influence the world.

HOW THE MONEYS ARE RAISED.

During the political campaign last year, President JOHNSON became sensitively conscientious. He had such scruples against assessing office-holders for partizan purposes, that he caused orders to be issued forbidding the practice. He did not do this on the comparatively low ground that the incumbents needed all their salaries, but on the high ground of vindicating the purity of elections. Some innocent people, unskilled in penetrating the glosses by which base purposes are covered up, gave him credit for marvellous uprightness. Old stagers shook their heads, affirming the order was simply evidence of hostility to the Republican party, and that within a few months he would throw off all disguise and act his part boldly.

Of late many individuals have curiously inquired where all the moneys came from, which the Administration and its supporters have used in starting newspapers, circulating documents, supporting political beggars, and buying up adventurers. These inquiries are pertinent, and shall be answered.

1. The President has changed his mind about assessing office holders. He is not as conscientious as he was. He is not as hypocritical. He makes them pay up to support "My Policy" and make war on the Republicans.

2. He is levying a tax for political purposes on all persons owning estates of the value of $20,000 and upwards, to whom he grants pardons. We do not speak unadvisedly. We have the very best authority for saying that $125 is expected from every man to whom a pardon is granted; and have reasons for believing the sums so raised are devoted to the purposes of the JOHNSON organization.

Now, it so happens that a large proportion of the men pardoned so far, were at bottom, from the start, Union men. When the Confederacy got on its legs, they went along to save their fortunes. As events turned out, they forfeited them to the old government. The President hands them back their properties, with his pardon, but assesses them $125 each, to help run his party machine, and help put the rebels back into power.

HENRY J. RAYMOND.

This gentleman entered upon a Congressional career at the opening of the last session under auspices so brilliant as to draw out spontaneously the congratulations of friends, the jealousies of rivals, and the hatred of foes. A colossal reputation ran before him. It was even proposed to make him Speaker over the heads of all the old members, and it was regarded as a modest concession when he protested against the honor. His friends said he could afford to wait. He concurred in their roseate judgment of his future.

At the close of the session Mr. RAYMOND had passed under an eclipse. He had been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Eminent as a journalist; fluent and apt as a platform talker; with unusual skill in manipulating lesser assemblies, as the New York Legislature; on this larger scene and in contact with a weightier sort of men, he was found to be powerless—and yet, it must be admitted that the deficiencies under which he fell are not so much intellectual as moral. In the midst of an assembly of earnest men, all aglow with convictions reaching to the very core of their existences and controlling all their actions, a time-server and trimmer necessarily excites repugnance and contempt.

The Republicans of Mr. RAYMOND's district have concluded to dispense with his services; and, curiously enough, the Democrats seem equally disposed to give him the go-by, and to accept Mr. MORRISSEY, the pugilist, in his stead. If they cannot have a moral athlete, they will at least have a physical one.

Thurlow Weed's Programme.

Thurlow Weed flatters himself that he has so pulled the wires that Vallandigham Wood, Pendleton and other Copperhead delegates will be excluded from the Philadelphia Convention. He tells the readers of the Times that in the State of New York he has taken snap judgment on the Copperheads, and will see that they are not admitted to seats, least their presence would be disagreeable to his wagon load of rich men whom he has appointed as delegates to the Convention. According to the programme of the "King of the lobby" the Philadelphia Convention will consist of renegade Republicans and reconstructed rebels—the Copperheads to be left out in the wet.

The New York News discourses thus in regard to Weed's programme of excluding the Copperheads:

"Those who would exclude the true men of the North (Copperheads) from the proposed National Union Convention at Philadelphia and yet expect the true men of the South (rebels) to participate in it without them, are as inconsistent as the Radicals, who call themselves Unionists, while they are destroying (?) the Union. If the genuine Democracy of the whole country are willing to sit in convention with those who aided and 'abetted' the outrageous and unconstitutional acts of the party in power during the past five years, and who justified the crimes of men like Butler, and the treason of men like Sumner, we think that the least those New York Times people say in favor of excluding anybody the better. The people (Copperheads) are willing for the present, to overlook the conduct of such ilk, but they must not put on too many airs. It will be well for them not to insist on a comparison of records. If a Political record is to constitute credentials, that little bell" (Seward's) which sent so many noble patriots (Northern rebels) to the dungeon, will fare badly in the National Convention now, its sounds will not be as potent as when Stanton and his myrmidons responded to its tinkling."

GENERAL NEWS.

—Twenty negro families recently left Atlanta for Liberia.

—Mrs. Winnifred Gallagher died in Detroit lately, aged 106 years.

—Nearly twenty-nine thousand emigrants arrived in New York in July.

—Some New York roughs robbed a man and then threw him into the East river.

—New Orleans now has a population larger by sixty thousand than ever before.

—The New York trade in unripe fruits and stale vegetables is said to be enormous.

—A girl of thirteen recently eloped from Plymouth, Vermont, and was married in Maine.

—James Kelly, a New York physician, committed suicide by jumping from a third story window.

—A Connecticut man was fined four dollars for preventing his hay from getting wet on Sunday.

—The project of a Planters' Convention, to be held in October, is occupying attention in the South.

—A woman died in a dentist's office in Biddeford, Maine, while under the influence of chloroform.

—The Arabs relieve persons suffering from sunstroke by pouring salt and water into the sufferer's ears.

—Three English women, sisters, have increased her Majesty's subjects to the extent of sixty individuals.

—Scene in a New York tenement house: Corpse of a cholera patient and twenty-two persons sleeping soundly within a yard of it.

—Minnesota is about to yield another of her bountiful harvests. The Norwegian emigration to that rapidly growing State is said to be immense.

—A dog found a pair of bloody pantaloons in a hollow tree at Niles, Michigan, which led to the arrest of a man named Mattux for a murder committed twelve years ago.

—Bismarck is said to have explained his policy some time since, to a confidential friend, which was to buy some of the German States, conquer others, and finally unite the whole in a war against France.

—Jeff. Davis' counsel are preparing a denial of the late report of the Judiciary Committee of the House, involving Davis in complicity with the plot to assassinate the late President Lincoln and his Cabinet.

—Henry W. Veazey, of Norfolk, took a spoonful of medicine from a vial prepared for his business partner, just to convince the latter that it was not bad to the taste, and died in a short time afterwards from the effects.

—A woman who keeps a fruit stand in Jersey City was recently requested to hold a young child while the mother went for a forgotten carpet-bag. The forgetful woman not returning, baby was consigned to the almshouse.

—Brooklyn, New York, has had considerable trouble with its firemen of late, several companies having been suspended for riotous conduct, and it is feared the duty of putting out fires will finally devolve on the police and private citizens.

—A Mrs. Jackson attempted to shoot a man named Robertson in the streets of Nashville, on the 2d instant, but was prevented from executing her purpose by a bystander. Robertson had badly beaten her husband, a few days before, at Lebanon.

—Colonel Pollock, of the Second California volunteers, who has been on duty in Arizona for the past three years, does not have a very exalted opinion of that territory. He thinks that such is the nature of the country that it is cheaper to feed the Apaches than to fight them.

FOR CHOLERA AND DIARRHEA AND ALL DISEASES OF THE BOWELS.—BROWN'S CARMINATIVE.—Read what Mr. SEMPLE, dry goods merchant, Allegheny City, says:

We have used Dr. Brown's Carminative for a number of years in our family, and do confidently recommend it as a perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and bowels. We have also given it to a number of our neighbors and friends, and they all speak of its efficacy in every case.

WILLIAM SEMPLE,
180 and 182 Federal st., Allegheny.

I have used Dr. Brown's Carminative in my family in diarrhea and in a very bad case of dysentery, which it checked and cured in two days, and I do not hesitate to say that the above recommendation is entirely reliable.

PROPOSALS.

PENNSYLVANIA
Agricultural Land Scrip for Sale.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT having granted to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Land Scrip, representing 780,000 acres of Public Land, for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges in this State, the Board of Commissioners now offer this Land Scrip to the public.

Proposals for the purchase of this Land Scrip, addressed to "The Board of Commissioners of Agricultural Land Scrip," will be received at the Surveyor General's Office, at Harrisburg, until Wednesday, August 15, 1866.

This land may be located in any State or Territory, by the holders of the scrip, upon any of the unappropriated lands (except mineral lands) of the United States, which may be subject to sale at private entry. Each piece of scrip represents a quarter section of one hundred and sixty acres. Bids must be made per acre, and no bids will be received for less than one quarter section.

The Scrip will be issued immediately on the payment of the money to the Surveyor General, one third of which must be paid within ten days and the remaining two-thirds within thirty days after notification of the acceptance of the bid or bids by the Board of Commissioners.

J. M. CAMPBELL,
Surveyor General.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

THE NEW ORLEANS TROUBLE.

Address of Gov. Wells.

NEW ORLEANS, August 8.—The following address has been issued to the people of Louisiana by Governor Wells: New Orleans August 8.—The bloody tragedy enacted in the City of New Orleans on the 30th day of July, 1866, in which more than three hundred citizens were killed or wounded, has, to the credit of humanity, created a profound sympathy in the breast of every man throughout the length and breadth of the country.

The remote and immediate causes of this outrage demand a thorough investigation and explanation; and, as the Chief Magistrate of the State, I feel a solemn duty resting upon me to give a plain, unvarnished statement of its origin and progress. In doing this it becomes necessary for me to commence in the year 1864, at the reorganization of the civil government in that portion of Louisiana which had been wrested from rebel authority. I regret that I shall in this connection be obliged to speak of myself. It is not to satisfy any feeling of vanity that I do so, for I fully realize that I am but an insignificant atom in the great cause of maintaining and perpetuating the Union of these States.

The political history of the country teaches us that under the policy of the late lamented President, all the loyal citizens of Louisiana, in the parishes then within the Union, were invited and authorized in the proclamation issued by the military commander of this Department, to hold an election on the 22d day of February, 1864, for State officers. The election was held, and I then, being a refugee from my parish in the rebel lines, in consequence of my Union sentiments, was nominated by the Free State party, as it is called, and also by the extreme Radical party, of which J. Durand was the acknowledged leader, as their candidate for the office of Lieut. Governor. The first named ticket, headed by Michael Hahn for Governor, was elected. Governor Hahn served until the 4th of March, 1865, when, by his resignation, I succeeded to the office of Governor. In the meantime, and by virtue of military authority, an election for delegates to the State Convention to amend and revise the Constitution of 1852, had taken place. The Convention had met, framed a Constitution declaring slavery to be abolished, which Constitution is now the fundamental law of the State. It is now further known that the Convention did not adjourn sine die, but subject to the call of the President for any cause. A Legislature had also been elected, and was in session at the time of the assumption by me of the duties of the office of Governor.

Shortly after the collapse of the so-called Confederate Government took place, and by the surrender of the forces in the Trans-Mississippi Department, the entire territory of the State was restored to the lawful authority of the United States. When this event took place, what was my conduct towards the population of the eighteen parishes reclaimed? Although I had been persecuted and driven away from my home by the rebel authorities, I suppressed all feeling of rancor so natural to the many, and expressed the belief that a majority had been seduced from their allegiance to the old flag by the wiles of artful demagogues who brought on the rebellion.

When the members of the Legislature met in extra session in the month of November, I determined to try the effect of kindness and conciliation in weaning them back to their first love. I addressed them a proclamation, congratulating them on their restoration to the protection of a government of law and order, and assured them that so far as I was concerned, I was willing to forget the past. I begged them to submit cheerfully, and unreservedly to the new order of things and assured them, that although a State Government had been organized, yet I was anxious that a general election for State officers should be held, in which the whole State could participate. I appointed men, recommended, to fill the offices in the several parishes. I signed their applications to the President of the United States for special pardon. I persisted in my course of reconciliation, notwithstanding the warnings and remonstrances of Union men, who believed that my policy would be unavailing in accomplishing the purposes intended, and who predicted that, at the very first election, these men, in every parish where they held the power, would proscribe every man from office who had not been in the rebel army, and fought for the rebel cause.

These predictions have been realized to the letter at every subsequent election, with the exception of my own case; and it is well known, for it was publicly avowed, that I was put at the head of their ticket simply because it was thought that I could be useful in securing a representation of this State in Congress. It is well known that the platform reported by the committee, appointed for that purpose, is a reiteration of the doctrines of the right of secession, and it was only through the exertions of a few of the more cautious and politic of the party that this platform was made to assume the form in which it was adopted. At the same convention, a well known citizen, and live democrat, was publicly censured by resolution because, in a speech delivered before that party, he said that secession was worse than a crime—it was a blunder. Notwithstanding my nomination by the Democratic party, another candidate was put in the field in opposition to me, who had officiated as Governor under rebel rule, and who, had he been in the country, and signified his assent, I have no doubt would have been overwhelmingly elected.

The Convention of 1865 was convened for the purpose of raising money to restore the broken levees, and to take measures to redeem the credit of the State. I found that they were more intent on calling a Convention to change the Constitution of 1864 than to promote the material interests of the people. Their chief objection to that instrument was the character of the men who framed it, and the abolition thereby of slavery. Having failed at the extra session to pass a bill calling a Convention, the attempt was renewed at the regular session, held in the month of January, and more than half the time of that body was spent in discussing that question. Finally, a committee was sent to Washington to consult the President, and the Legislature only abandoned the measure through his advice. I considered a Convention inexpedient, and for that reason opposed it. I had learned enough of the real sentiments of the people to convince me that if a new constitution was made it would be less in harmony with the views of the President and Congress than the Constitution of 1864, the result of which would be to lessen the chances for the admission of our Representatives. I urged these views on the members of both Houses of the Legislature, but they had no effect with the majority. I deprecated the city and parish election, for the reason that I feared the result, because of the character of the men that would be elected, because I had seen enough of public sentiment to convince me that more of those who had served in the Confederate army, or who had gone into the Confederate lines, would be elected to office. I foresaw that such a result would be justly regarded by the people of the loyal States as showing a defiant spirit, and as still glorying in a course that had cost them such a fearful loss of life and expenditure of treasure. With numerous and repeated evidences of the continuing of an intolerant and rebellious spirit, and the manifestation of the persecution of all that did not adhere to the fortunes of the Confederacy, to the last, on the part of a large majority of the citizens, and with a press almost unanimously expressing sentiments of the same tenor, is it a matter of surprise that I should pause and commence to reflect on the consequences, both as regards the future security of the Government and the fate of Union men in the South, if these men, who once attempted to break up the Union, succeeded in grasping the power of the nation again? I had seen, that while professing with their lips renewed allegiance to the flag and obligation to the President for his pacific policy, they were becoming arrogant, intolerant and dictatorial. They were glorying in the apparent schism between the President and Congress in the policy of restoring the States lately in rebellion, and rubbing their hands with delight at the idea of civil war in the loyal States.

In view of all this array of strong, stubborn facts, I frankly own that my views of the conciliatory policy in bringing back to allegiance those who have been engaged in a war to destroy the Union have undergone a change. The intolerant spirit engendered by slavery still exists. The loss of property and the failure of their hopes can never be forgiven, and though I regard them as impotent to renew constituted authority, enforced by the presence of military forces, yet I am convinced that they would renew the rebellion to-morrow, if there were a sure prospect of success. Impressed with the truth of these views, foreseeing the uncertainty for the future security of Union men in the South, desiring that the amendment to the constitution adopted by Congress and submitted to the States for ratification should prevail, and fully realizing the fact that the amendment would never be ratified by the present Legislature, I own that I was in favor of the reassembling of the Convention of 1864 as the only means of securing the ratification as required, and thereby insure the admission of our representatives in Congress. The legal right of the Convention to continue its functions is a question I suppose properly pertaining to the Courts to decide. Senators and Representatives in Congress of great learning, and men of high legal attainments in New Orleans, have expressed the opinion that under the resolution of adjournment the Convention could lawfully reassemble. A distinguished Democratic Senator in Congress took the same view. For myself, if I had any doubt on this subject, which I have not, I would have deferred to the opinion of abler men. The total number of delegates composing the Convention was one hundred and fifty. The number elected was seventy-three. The quorum was fixed at seventy-six, this number being a majority of the whole. There were twenty-seven parishes unrepresented in the Convention, entitled to eleven delegates, and adding thereto ten vacancies to be filled, it would make sixty-one delegates to be elected, besides there were some ten or twelve delegates, who, disapproving the emancipation clause, refused to sign the Constitution, who may be ranked with the extreme conservatives. Counting the sixty-one delegates elected to be of the same class, and the balance of the Convention to be radical, it will be seen that the parties would have been nearly equally divided.

There are disfranchising clauses in the Constitution of 1864. The much abused members of that body had it in their power to have made the constitution as stringent against those engaged in the rebellion, as Tennessee and Missouri have done. They pursue an opposite course, believing and trusting, as I did, that these men would be actuated by a spirit of tolerance and forbearance, in return for the liberality shown toward them. How the members of that Convention have been treated individually by the very men in whose honor and good faith they had trusted, to say nothing of the scorn and villification fulminated against them, as a collective body, and the constitution they made, let the record of the bloody doings at the Mechanics' Institute on Monday, the 30th ult., answer. In keeping with their unrelenting policy to maintain the power of the State in their own hands exclusively, they opposed the meeting of the convention of 1864. They needed no better monitor than their own conscience to tell them that by their conduct they had forfeited all claims to further favors from the original members of that Convention. They resolved that it must be put down, crushed out at all risks. The terrible scenes of the 30th of July, confidently predicted in case the convention met, were the result. The letters of Mayor Monroe to Gen. Baird, accompanying this communication, furnish proof that it was the determination that if every other measure failed, a resort would be made to force. Everything was arranged on Sunday. Preparatory to that purpose, the police received orders, and on Monday morning they were in large numbers at the corner of Canal and Dryade streets, each having one or more revolvers on his person. They were not there, except to commit violence. The speakers at the Friday night meeting counseled nothing more than that the blacks should come armed to defend the Convention, in case the members were attacked. Admitting that they had assembled for that purpose, what occasion was there for alarm, unless it was meditated to assault the Convention. The inference is irresistible, from the manner of the police alone, that it was designed to break up the Convention by force. For this purpose a beginning was necessary, and the opportunity sought for soon occurred by the arrival of a procession of blacks with music, on their way to the place of the meeting of the Convention, which procession had entered the street through the crowd of policemen and citizens. At the corner of Canal street they were met with insult and jeers, which brought on a collision. A shot was fired but ended in nothing serious. The next act of violence was the arrest of a colored man by a policeman in front of the Institute, but for what offense I am unable to say. The crowd of colored persons assembled became excited at these occurrences, the same as a body of white men would do under the same circumstances. Some took the side of the policemen, others the side of the prisoners; brickbats were thrown, and one shot fired, the testimony going to show that it was done by one of the colored crowd. It was answered immediately by several shots from the crowd of policemen at the corner; and followed up by rapid firing on the crowd of blacks, who returned the fire as fast as they could, but being overpowered and driven from the street, took shelter in the Mechanic's Institute. If the object of the police was simply to preserve the public peace, why did they not, after the men had taken refuge in the Institute, return to their original position, at the corner of the streets, which effectually cut off egress from the front, and, placing a guard to watch the rear of the building, await the arrival of the military, who were known to be on the way. Their only reason for this course is that it did not suit their purpose. They accordingly advanced in front of the building, and besieged it on all sides, and every negro who attempted to escape was murdered.

The crowning climax of these murderous and bloody acts is well known. When the white flag was hung out as a token of surrender, the police arrested the members of the Convention and other white citizens, and brought them into the streets, where the most prominent, for their Union sentiments, were shot, stabbed and beaten in the very custody and presence of the entire police force of the city. Why did not the Mayor, or his Chief, station a guard at the door, and forbid any person from entering, and await the arrival of the military? By this means the last, most deliberate, and most horrible phaze of this bloody tragedy would have been avoided. It is also notorious that the police failed to arrest, or attempt to arrest, even one of the riotous citizens, who, according to their often repeated statements, were continually attacking, wounding and killing persons, who had surrendered and were in custody.

I think I have fully shown that it was the design of those opposed to the Convention to break it up by force. The inference to be drawn from the letter of the Mayor that such a course was resolved on, and the massing of the police, and their willingness to rush into the fight, I think fully establishes the fact that the causes of this exhibition of violence and mob law must be traced further back. It is the embers of the fires of the rebellious feeling which plunged this country into a desolating war, the flames of which are not yet extinguished in the breast of the former slaveholding aristocracy, who failed in their first effort to destroy the Government. They seek now to regain political power in the same old spirit.

My deliberate conclusion is, that if the military forces be withdrawn, the lives of the Union men, who proved themselves conspicuous in maintaining their allegiance, will not be safe. The security, both of the Government and the Union men of the South, depends, in my opinion, upon the ratification of the constitutional amendment proposed by Congress, and the enfranchisement of the loyal black man, that he may become educated and qualified for that important privilege. If the advocacy of these measures identify me with the Radical party, as it is called, in my opposition to the President, I must accept the situation, besides I cannot change my conviction in respect to the principles and measures I deem necessary to perpetuate the Union.

[Signed.] MADISON WELLS.
Governor of Louisiana.

VALUABLE
COAL MINES FOR SALE.
The valuable coal mines owned by the Southern Coal Mining Company, situated in Shelby county, Ala., twelve miles northeast of Montevallo, and one and a half miles from the North and South Railroad (now in running order to this point), and one-quarter of a mile from the Branch Road to the Red Mountain Coal Mines, are now offered for sale.
These mines have been in successful operation for some years, are situated in the heart of the mineral region of the State, and are only sixty-five miles by rail from Selma, from whence there is water transportation to the Gulf.
There is not in the United States a better opportunity for a safe and profitable investment in the Coal business.
TERMS OF SALE:
One half cash, and the balance at the expiration of six months, without interest; or one-sixth cash and the balance in equal monthly payments, without interest.
G. M. McCONNICO,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY, August 9, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 148¾; 1881s, 110⅝; old 5-20s, 109⅝@109¾; ditto, 1864, 106⅞@107; ditto, 1865, 107⅛@107⅜; 10-40s, 99½; 7-30s, 105. Cleveland & Pittsburgh R R, 88; Fort Wayne, 106⅜; Erie, 68¼; Michigan Southern, 86; Western Union Telegraph, 56⅝.

Despite the lower quotations of Five-Twenty bonds in London, the market has advanced here within one day three-fourths per cent on 1862's, one-half on 1864's, and three-fourths on 1865's, which seem to be the favorite investment—all 6 per cent securities sympathize with the advance. Ten-Forties are alone below par, and are at present the cheapest security. Since August seven Thirties can be converted into Five Twenties of 1865, these bonds have likewise gone up with the advance in Five Twenties, but are slightly higher, and will remain so until the 15th proximo, when, after the interest is paid, a change is expected.

It is the general opinion now in Wall street that government bonds are far above their real value, and a sudden decline is looked for by the most prominent houses who deal exclusively in these securities.

Gold is scarce, yet there is no desire to run up the premium, and the market can be controlled by a few, yet, the interests of those who believe in lower rates are identical with the bear clique of the stock operators that they can well afford to keep aloof from the gold room, and like the gamblers worry out one another.

—It seems to be a general opinion that money will be tight and currency scarce in the fall, when the staples of all sections of the country are being moved to market. Before January the South and West will require one hundred and fifty millions of currency, and at the same time the Middle, Northern and Eastern States will contract, by retiring the old State currency. Fifteen millions more of national currency is all that can be issued to fill the three hundred millions maxium. The State bank currency to be retired is more than double this amount; so that a positive contraction of currency of somewhere between six and seven millions per month is now to be encountered.

—Some thirty-three of the first foreign banking and shipping firms of New York have sent to Secretary McCulloch a memorial, in which, in view of the embarrassments to trade from gold speculation, they suggest the expediency of selling all the gold actually the property of the Government, beyond whatever amount it may be deemed essential to keep on hand for the payment of the gold interest on the public debt. They add:

"According to general belief, in which we participate, the sole ground for imposing duties upon imports payable in gold was to provide for the payment of the interest on the debt, and was not intended to convert the Treasury into savings bank for the hoarding of gold coin, thus contributing to impede the legitimate course of business, and to reduce all commercial transactions to the basis of speculations in gold, as is the case at present. We therefore further respectfully submit to your consideration, as the most effectual means of checking inordinate speculation, whether it would not be advisable to sell all your surplus gold at least once a week. We consider the rate of premium a matter of secondary importance. Gold at 150 means practically the repudiation of all the debts public and private, to the extent of one-third of their whole amount, and we do not deem it essential to the dignity or well being of the government to benefit to any great extent by that fact."

—The item in the August statement of the public debt on the first instant, next in importance to the large reduction in the amount of the principal, is the fact that the coin on hand has increased—now amounting to $61,332,126—and more of it is owned by the Treasury, the gold certificates being reduced. We suppose that the sixty-one millions includes all held by the Government in California, as well as that distributed in the Sub-Treasuries throughout the Atlantic States. A little over forty millions are in the Sub-Treasury at New York. The debt on the 1st of May was $2,689,680,842 78, showing a continued decrease for many months. The total decrease for the year ending August 1 is $124,153,999 90.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, August 9, 1866.

CATTLE.

The arrivals of cattle were unusually large this week, and with rather unfavorable advices from the east, prices ruled lower, notwithstanding the market was quite a spirited one, and there was a very full attendance of buyers. As usual, Philadelphia was fully represented, and one firm alone bought thirty car loads, or about six hundred head, and there were also buyers from other points, including New York and Baltimore. The cattle on sale, generally speaking, were of an inferior quality, though there were some few good droves, and these, as a matter of course, brought fair prices although from ½ to ¼ a cent per pound below the rates paid for the same grades of cattle last week. M. Johnston, from Coshocton County, Ohio, had an extra bunch of cattle which he sold at 8¼ and a premium, and these cattle, had they have been offered last week, would doubtless have brought 8¾ or even 9. Common and medium cattle were in fair demand at a reduction of from ¼ to ½ of a cent, and, as will be seen by reference to the sales annexed, several bunches of bulls changed hands at from 5 to 5¼.

SHEEP.

The arrivals of sheep were also quite large, larger than for some week past, but as there was an unusually large number of buyers in attendance, the market ruled steady, although yesterday and to-day prices were barely maintained. We quote nominally at 4½ to 6½ per pound, though it is possible that some few bunches of extra sheep may have brought a ¼ or even a half more.

SWINE.

Owing to a material advance in New York and Philadelphia, a good demand and very light arrivals, the market ruled very firm and prices, as compared with last week, have advanced from ¾ to 1 cent per pound, and we now quote at $10,50 to 11,50, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, August 9, 1866.

The produce markets contiue dull and neglected, the movements in the leading commodities being very much restricted, while so far as values are concerned, there has been no essential change to note.

GRAIN—Wheat is more active but unchanged; sale of 3 cars Club at $2,13, bagged; 1 do do at $2,10, in bulk; 300 bush in small lots, at $2,15; 800 bush Winter at $2,45; and 300 do do at $2,50. Oats firm and in demand; sale of 800 bush No. 1 Chicago at 50, sacks included; 1 car good Ohio at 52, on track; and 1 car prime do, in elevator, at 55. Corn is quiet at 75 to 78. Rye is quoted at 90 for Western. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—Is steady with a moderate local demand but unchanged. Sales of 100 bbls Spring at $10,25; 200 do do at $10,50; and 100 bbls Winter at $12. Rye Flour is dull at $6,25 to 6,50. Cornmeal is quoted at $1 per bush or $4 per barrel.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm with a fair jobbing demand at 17¼ to 17½ for Shoulders; 19½@20 for Ribbed Sides; 23 for Plain Hams, and 25½@26 for Sugar Cured. Lard is firmer but unchanged at 21½@22. Mess Pork is dull but held pretty firmly at $33,50.

POTATOES—The supply is fully up to the demand, and the market is quiet with regular sales from store at $2,75@3 per bbl.

CHEESE—In rather better demand but unchanged at 14 to 15 for Western Reserve; 16@17 for Hamburg; and 20@21 for New York Goshen.

EGGS—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market is dull and over supplied. We continue to quote at 18@19.

BUTTER—There is considerable inquiry for packed Butter, and with but little offering, it may [illegible] might possibly bring 26.

APPLES—There is no abatement in the demand for good ripe Apples, and with a very meagre supply, the market may be quoted firm at $5 to $6 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, August 9, 1866.

CRUDE—The report of a rise at the upper end of the Allegheny river had a tendency to make the market a little panicky to-day, and as compared with yesterday, prices are a fraction lower. In the event of a resumption of navigation, of which there is no certainty at the present writing, a considerable amount of oil would, without doubt, find its way to this market, and it is this that makes holders apprehensive and disposed to realize, even if by so doing, they are obliged to make concessions. We can report a sale of four thousand barrels, in bulk, on the spot, at 14¼, and 500 barrels for October delivery, at 20, packages included. We can also report a sale of 1000 bbls Virginia oil—to go over the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad—at 19, delivered in Baltimore, packages to be returned. In addition to the above, we are cognizant of an offer to sell 1500 bbls, in bulk, on the spot, at 14½, and the same party offered to sell a similar amount to arrive on the first water, at same price.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was again very quiet to-day, the demand being somewhat restricted, though it is but proper to remark that there is but compartively little offering, as our refiners generally have about all the contracts they can fill for the next sixty days. As regards prices, however, there is no change worthy of notice, either for present or future delivery, but as already stated, the market is quiet and rather weak. Sale of 500 bbls for the last half of August in Philadelphia, at 44; 500 for the last half of September, at 43; and 500 for last half of October, at 44.

ARRIVALS—The following are the arrivals of oil reported to-day, a portion of which is from Smith's Ferry.

Detroit Lumber Market Aug. 1.

The quotations given in our last week's review continue, with no material change; neither is there any new phrase in the market that requires any extended notice. The demand is not quite so brisk, and manufacturers are piling rather more in their yards. Dressed stuff and all kinds of house lumber however, are still in good demand, with the whole list of prices still ranging comparatively lower than at other manufacturing points. Dealers, therefore, from Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland and other markets further east are now showing more favor to this one, to the neglect of others that have heretofore received orders. This has had a tendency to stiffen prices without any quotable advance.—[Tribune.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, August 8.—The fresh receipts of beef cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 2311 head. Entered sales at the different scales, 917 head, at prices ranging from $4,90 to $5 50 for common cows, heifers and tough steers, $6@6,75 for medium steers and butchers stock, and from $7,25@9,00 for fair to good shipping beeves. The market is moderately active for common and medium steers at a reduction of 10@15c per 100 lbs on the closing prices of Saturday last; for the best grades there is little inquiry, as shippers are holding off on account of the decline in the New York market. The prices of last week cannot be maintained, and the close the market rules weak.

New York Iron Market.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The market for pig is quiet, but remains steady and uniform, with a moderate demand from immediate consumers. We notice 150 tons Glengarnock Scotch at $46, ex ship; 150 do, to arrive, $46,50; 50 do Gartsherrie, $47,50, ex ship; 100 do No. 1 American, $47 50, at Poughkeepsie; 100 do No. 1, $48; 50 do No. 1 ex, $49; and 100 do No. 2 ex, $45, at Elizabethport. The other sales are 200 tons old rails and 500 packs Russia sheet, the latter before arrival, on terms not made public. The demand for bar &c. from store continues light and prices are steady. We know of no invoices offering from importers hands, the arrivals being chiefly consigned to dealers.

The Rochester Millers and the Cholera.

The Rochester millers still feel bad about Chicago wheat. After paying the Rochester journals to decry its character, so that they could purchase it cheap, the stubborn market continued to advance, and just when prices had risen to their highest point, they came here and made very liberal purchases. But this was not all. Immediately thereafter, the market dropped down, and when they had their flour ready, they had to sell at a heavy loss. The result of all this is, that the Rochester Union attributes the advent of the cholera to Chicago wheat. What next?—Chicago Tribune.

Detroit Wheat Market.

DETROIT, August 8—Very little is taken upon the streets at $2 for new white of No. 1 quality. Straggling car lots are being offered, and a sale of 1 car No. 1 white wheat was effected on 'Change this morning at $2,25 bagged and delivered. This may be considered an extra sale as it not generally believed the market will be sustained at that rate. Probably $2,15@2,20 is all that it would be safe to quote the market, though choice lots may continue for some days to bring the high rate at which the sale is quoted.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, August 9.—There is no change to note in money, and the market remains very easy. The demand is very moderate and freely supplied at 4@5 per cent. on call. The gold market closed up quietly at 148⅛@148¼. Exchange is very dull, the Government Securities closed up firmly after an active change. Coupons of 1881, 110⅝; 5-20 coupons of 1865, 107⅛; 10-40s, 99½; July 7-30s, 105¼.

The stock market at the last open board was generally firm, and there was very little change from the quotations current before the session.

The following are the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: Western Union, 56@51; New York Central, 104⅞@105; Erie, 68⅜@68½; Reading, 111⅞@112; Michigan Central, 109¾@110½; Michigan Southern 85⅞@85¾; Illinois Central Script 122⅛; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87¾; Cleveland & Toledo, 116@116¼; Rock Island 106¾@107. Petroleum Stocks—United States,, 785. Mining Stocks—American Flag, 100; Kipp & Buell, 100; Walkill Lead B, 3, 123; Consolidated Gregory Gold 19; New York Gold, 8, 30, 130.

Money market easy at 3@5 per cent., with a large supply. Sterling rather more active, at 107½@108¼. Gold without decided change, opening at 148⅝, declining to 148⅛, and closing at 148⅜. Governments more active and firmer. Stocks steady; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 105¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 106¾; Cleveland and Toledo, 116⅜; Chicago and North Western, 36½; do. preferred, 68½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 87¾; Illinois Central, 122⅛; Michigan Southern, 86¾; Reading, 112⅜; Erie, 68⅜; New York Central, 105; Western Union Telegraph, 56⅞; 7-30s, first series, 105⅝; second do., 105⅝; third do., 105⅜; 10-40 Coupons [illegible], 1865, 107⅛; 5-20s of 1862 coupons, 110⅝; New Jersey Central, 127; Chicago and Alton, 109; Alton and Terre Haute preferred, 57.

The Post's money article says: The gold market is firm, and coin remains scarce for delivery. Money continues extremely abundant at unchanged rates. The stock market opened firm at two o'clock this afternoon. The quotations were: New York Central, 105½; Erie, 65⅞; Hudson, 119⅞; Michigan Central, 109⅝; Illinois Central, 122⅛.

The Commercial's money article says: The Stock market opened strong this morning and at the first call of the regular board prices were generally higher. At the second call and after the board, however, there was a slight reaction, and prices were about ½ lower. The undertone of the market is decidedly firm, and a majority of the street are committed for high prices. At the regular board the chief activity was in Michigan Southern, which is under active clique manipulation. The Miscellaneous list was more active and firmer. Governments continue remarkably firm, owing to a steady foreign demand for 5-20's, and to operations connected with funding. There was a decided scarcity of old 5-20's and the purchase of about a quarter of a million for shipment appears to be sufficient in the present state of the market to put up the price ¼@½ per cent.

The money market exhibits a continued ease. The applications of the brokers for call loans are met readily at 5 per cent., and round surpluses are loaned at 4 per cent., owing to the backwardness of the fall trade. There is still a very light supply of merchants' paper; discounts of prime names range at 5@6½ per cent. Foreign Exchange is dull. The supply of bills exceeds the demand and the rates are weak. Gold continues firm apparently, under the operations of a clique, who are carrying outa scheme for producing an extreme scarcity of coin for delivery. The rate on loans is 1-16@3/32 per cent. per day.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, August 9.—Cotton is very dull, with a downward tendency; 35@37c for middling uplands. THE NEW

Spring and Summer Medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT

SARSAPARILLA,

COMBINED WITH

Iodide of Lime,

PREPARED FOR

G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,

BY

James R. Nichols & Co.,

MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,

MANUFACTURERS OF THE

ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK

WITH

Protoxide of Iron,

Which has become so favorably known as a

Tonic and Restorative,

By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME, presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather,

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.

For sale in Pittsburgh by R. E. SELLERS & CO., AND ALL DRUGGISTS.

SEMPER PARATUS.

PRO BO NO PUBLICO.

Yet they say 'tis a heinous crime the way business is conducted. Some say it is murdering the trade. Others say it is against his own interests We don't believe it. Let us see what the true state of affairs is. The truth is this: That there is a new establishment, neatly fitted up, at No. 87 Market street, Pittsburgh, over which W. G. MAHAFFEY presides, and in which boots and shoes are sold at prices so low as to astonish the natives. Hear me while I give you the prices of a few articles, while all other articles are sold correspondingly low: Ladies' Congress Lasting gaiters selling at $1.50; Ladies' Sewed Morocco Boots at $2.00; Men's Congress Lasting Gaiters at $3.50; Children's Slippers at 40c; Children's Morocco Shoes at 50c. A large lot of gent's prime fine calf balmorals and gaiters just received and selling exceedingly low. In addition to this he keeps any article in the boot or shoe line, and manufactures to order Ladies' Congress lasting gaiter morocco boot. Ladies' and gentlemen's fancy cloth embroidered slippers. Likewise gent's first class calf boots made to order $1.50 lower than any other first class house in the city. Lasts fit up to fit the feet, which we would advise every man to have of his own. Ladies' and gent's fancy cloth slipper uppers, silk embroidered, for sale. Wherein consists the crime. If in selling low, we plead guilty; and by selling low we expect to preserve our own interests, and make quick sales and many of them. Inviting you to call and see for yourselves we leave the subject with you.
